Publication Ethics

The journal adopts internationally recognized standards of publication ethics and is committed to applying them to all parties involved in the publishing process.

First: Author Responsibilities

Authors are required to:

- Adhere to the principles and ethics of scientific research.
- Submit original work that has not been previously published.
- Maintain academic integrity and accurate referencing.
- List authors' names according to their genuine scientific contributions.
- Acknowledge individuals who contributed to the research without listing them as authors.
- Refrain from submitting the same manuscript to more than one journal simultaneously.
- Report any significant errors discovered after publication.
- Respond to reviewers' comments or provide clear scientific justification in case of disagreement.

Second: Reviewer Responsibilities

Reviewers are required to:

- Comply with international ethical standards for peer review.
- Decline review assignments in cases of lack of expertise or conflicts of interest.
- Maintain the confidentiality of manuscripts and their contents.
- Ensure that submitted research is free from plagiarism or scientific misconduct.
- Provide objective, clear, and well-reasoned review reports.
- Adhere to the specified review timeline.

Third: Editorial Board Responsibilities

The Editorial Board is committed to:

- Selecting qualified reviewers with complete confidentiality.
- Making final publication decisions based on peer-review reports and the scientific merit of the manuscript.
- Preserving the confidentiality of the review process.
- Avoiding discrimination against authors for any non-academic reasons.
- Addressing authors' complaints through fair and documented procedures.
- Ensuring that published research complies with ethical standards of scientific publishing.
